

College Success for a Whole Lot Less

7 Key Insights to Get Your Children into the Colleges They Want at Rock-Bottom Cost, Without Huge Loans and Without Hurting Retirement!

Are you a parent of college-bound children who:

- >>> is behind in saving for college and don't want to end-up with a boat-load of debt?
- >>> has saved for college but now are concerned those savings will cause you to lose financial aid?
- >>> thinks you make too much money to qualify for financial aid or benefit from college planning?
- >>> is committed to the best education for them, but worry this will delay retirement?

I am Kevin Anderson, College Planning Pro and co-author of the just-released book “Transform” with Brian Tracy. Families leverage my unique insight into managing the college process to get their children into colleges that best fit them, at the least cost to the family. And I want to help you do the same! This is why I am offering you a complimentary workshop:
